SITUATION IS NOW CRITICAL

OFFICIALS FACING CONDITIONS GRAVER THAN CUBAN QUESTION.

WILSON IS DISPLEASED

HE REALIZES SERIOUSNESS AND CRITICIZES MINORITY PARTY.

MAKES HANDLING DIFFICULT

Demand of Senator for Investigation Called Disrespectful to the President.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The American government tonight was confronted by what official Washington regarded as the most delicate situation in its relations with Mexico that has yet developed since armed revolution disturbed the peace of the southern republic. The threatened rebuff from the Huerta administration to the mission of John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson en route to Mexico City to expound the hopes of the United States for a suspension of hostilities and an orderly constitutional election in Mexico, drew from Senator Bacon, chairman of the foreign relations committee, a declaration on the floor of the senate today that the present situation was "the gravest in years, much graver than confronted us when the Cuban question was here."

President Wilson realizes the gravity of the situation and manifested during the day his displeasure at the attitude of some members of the minority party in congress, telling callers that he believed certain republicans were making it difficult for him to handle the situation in a peaceful manner.

On this account, Mr. Wilson justified tonight the strong and emphatic language of Senator Bacon, who, during a debate in the senate, was rebuffed by the administration, demanding a general investigation of Mexican affairs, had referred to the resolution as openly "disrespectful" and "flouting in the face of the president" while the administration was endeavoring to put into effect a peace policy. The resolution was finally forced off the day's agenda.

Wilson Unmoved.

President Wilson was unmoved by advice from Mexico City depicting the Huerta government as inimical to Mr. Lind's mission. He let it be known, too, that so far as he was able to learn there was not the slightest demand from the American people for intervention and declined to discuss alternatives that might be used in event that the efforts of the American government to help restore peace in Mexico were rejected.

The president is confidently hopeful that a peaceful solution of the Mexican trouble can be effected. He made it plain to callers that until advised officially to the contrary, he would continue to regard as incredible the statements issued on behalf of President Huerta, declaring Mr. Lind's presence in Mexico undesirable. When there is little disposition to doubt the veracity of the news dispatches describing the attitude of the Huerta government against Lind, there is hope among other administration officials that upon mature reflection so such intemperate formalities will be conveyed to the Washington administration.

The president is known to hold the position that the Huerta administration would make a vital mistake in refusing at this stage of the situation to receive an envoy from the chief executive of the United States, even though the ordinary lacked diplomatic status. Mr. Lind, it was pointed out, was purposely sent without credentials so he might deal freely with representatives of all factions in Mexico who might inquire as to the views of the Washington administration.

It is expected an announcement of the purposes of the Washington government in sending Mr. Lind to Mexico will be made on his arrival in the Mexican capital and in the meantime there is no formal expression from the administration. It is known, however, that Mr. Lind is instructed to convey the earnest wishes of the United States government for a restoration of peace in Mexico and make his representations largely through the charge d'affaires of the American embassy. Washington officials would be pleased, nevertheless, if he had the opportunity to talk with President Huerta and obtain in person the friendly aims of the American government toward Mexico.

No Definite Plan.

Should the efforts of the United States be attacked by open renouance against Mr. Lind's visit, various suggestions for procedure are advanced by officials, but none of them reflecting any definite plan.

It was pointed out that if the Huerta government refused to deal with a representative of the president of the United States or turned a deaf ear to

EWELL TELLS OF INNER WORKINGS

HOW MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION PROCEEDS IN LOBBY MANIPULATIONS.

ASSOCIATION PUT TAFT ACROSS

Bird Relates Conversation with Former President—Realized Power of the Organization.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The internal workings of the National Association of Manufacturers were explained today by James L. Ewell, formerly manager of a trade publication issued in connection with the organization. The witness went at great length into several internal dimensions that disturbed the organization and attacked rather bitterly some of its officials, particularly J. P. Bird, who he declared treated him unfairly in discharging him from the employ of the association.

"They reached out into almost every matter concerned with the commerce and business of the country," said the witness in speaking of the association's activities.

Asked about the political activities of the association, Ewell said: "After the election of President Taft Mr. Bird said to me: 'People are beginning to realize the power of the National Association of Manufacturers.'"

"A committee of the association before Mr. Taft was nominated went to him and to the convention committee on resolutions and told them that if they put any such labor planks in the platform as were suggested by Gompers and the American Federation of Labor we would defeat them, but that if they did not, and left it to the democrats to support such planks the democrats would be defeated."

"Then, with a little smile, Mr. Bird said: 'That plank didn't go in, and we feel pretty well satisfied at having put Mr. Taft over.'"

Table of Ewell's testimony bore on the legislative activities of the association, although he did describe two conversations between Mr. Bird and Col. Martin M. Mulhall, at which he was present.

"On one occasion," he said, "I knew there was a tremendous fight on in the district of Representative Hughes. I was talking to Mr. Bird when Mulhall came into the room. In his characteristic way he shouted: 'Not enough money.'"

"Well, I could have done better if I had more money. I did not have enough money. There were plenty of democrats over there and I didn't have enough money to buy them. I think I did damn well with the money I had, don't you?"

On another occasion he heard Mulhall demand $2500 from Bird, he said, for work in Washington. Bird promised him the money, the witness declared.

Ewell told the committee of the circuit court.

Discovers Leprosy Contracted Nine Years Ago in Army

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—Leprosy contracted in the Philippine islands more than nine years ago was discovered today when George Hartman applied at a hospital to have a skin disease treated. Hartman since his return to St. Louis after his service in the Philippines has married.

"While in the Philippines I was guard over a leprosy colony and I know what it is. It was there that I probably contracted the disease," he said. "They tell me I am to be sent to a farm down the river to keep company with a Chinese leper. Well, if I am there will be two less lepers in the world, for the first time I get a chance I will kill the Chinese and then myself."

Mrs. Hartman today defied the health department to place the ex-soldier in quarantine, declaring Hartman was not suffering from leprosy and that she would remain with him wherever he went.

Nevertheless health authorities declared Hartman would be sent to quarantine immediately and that then his wife could not approach within twenty-five feet of him.

Shows His Cousin How to Take Tablets Prove Slow Poison

New York, Aug. 7.—Thomas N. McNamara, widely known specialist, is in a hospital at Hoboken, suffering from slow poison, taken by mistake. On Tuesday night when Edward McNamara, the doctor's cousin, asked for something to relieve a headache, McNamara offered him some tablets which his cousin attempted to swallow, but was unable to take. The doctor, thinking that the tablets were aspirin, put one of his own tongue and showed his cousin how to take the tablets. Edward McNamara, however, was unable to imitate him and went without the medicine.

One hour after retiring, Dr. McNamara began to feel ill, and remembering that he had just bought a bottle of slow poison tablets, thought perhaps he had made a mistake. Hurrying to the drugist he confirmed his suspicions.

He was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where fellow physicians worked over him for twenty-four hours before making known the report on the case. He was pronounced today to be probably out of danger.

Jeered By Crowd Tries Flight; Is Fatally Injured

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 7.—Henri de la Roche, 26 years old, expert mechanic and former chauffeur to the king of Greece, who last night suffered severely from injuries sustained in an airplane accident, attended a local aviation meet yesterday. The regular aviator failed to appear and La Roche, who had been explaining to the crowd the intricate workings of the engine, was goaded by jeers to try an ascent.

He ran the machine along the ground and made a good start upward. When he reached a height of about 35 feet he lost control, the machine dropped to the earth and crashed him beneath it. Both legs and three ribs were broken and he suffered internal injuries as well.

La Roche was well known in automobile racing circles several years ago.

For Aviators Now Is Discovered New Danger in Meteors

Berlin, Aug. 7.—A new danger for aviators was chronicled today by Victor Stoeckert, who reports that his biplane was caught in a shower of meteors last evening while he was flying with Lieutenant Von Bredelow of the Prussian army, at an altitude of one mile. Meteors passed so closely that both aviators say they felt the rush of air.

Horses and Driver of Horse Car Line Are to Be Cared for

New York, Aug. 7.—Celebrating the promised innovation of electric cars on Delancey street, property owners have voted to pension for life two of the old horses that headed the service record on the horse car line, which is to be supplanted, and to raise a fund for Pat Connell, old driver. The pair of horses, known as Tom and Jerry, have taken their turn regularly over the Delancey street line for twenty-four years. They will be bought from the company and rusticated on a farm, with nothing to do except graze. Connell has been driving a horse car on the line for thirty-two years.

Cruce Is Afraid to Leave State

Madison, Aug. 7.—Governor Cruce of Oklahoma has cancelled his engagement to address the governor's conference at the sixth annual meeting at Colorado Springs August 26-31, saying he had reason to fear his absence would give Lieutenant Governor McAllister an opportunity to perform gubernatorial acts contrary to the chief executive's policy.

Father Sees Eagle Carry Off Child

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 7.—While his father worked near-by a 4-year-old child was carried off by an eagle today near the village of Andeer. Hunters, accompanied by dogs, were unable to find any traces of the eagle or its prey.

WIFE AIDS HUSBAND WHO IS CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

MRS. JOHN PURROY MITCHELL

Mrs. John Purroy Mitchell, wife of the choice of the fusion committee for Mayor of New York city, is deeply interested in her husband's work. She delayed her honeymoon two years to permit him to go on with the investigation of Borough President Haffen in 1909.

PLAN DISTRIBUTION OF U. S. FUNDS

Bankers Representing Thirty-Six Cities of the South Discuss With Secretary McAdoo Method of Making Deposits for Crop Movement

Washington, Aug. 7.—Representatives of thirty-six southern cities gathered at the treasury department today to discuss with Secretary McAdoo and Assistant Secretary Williams plans for the distribution of the south's share of the $50,000,000 of government funds about to be deposited in banks throughout the agricultural sections of the country to aid in financing the fall movement of crops.

Arrangements for handling the money were agreed upon tentatively, although final plans will not be announced until after conferences to be held at the department tomorrow with bankers from the middle west, and next Thursday with representatives from Pacific coast cities.

The southerners asked for about half of the total amount to be deposited. It was agreed that one-half the amount given to each bank should be deposited 45 August and the remainder in September and that 25 per cent of the money should be returned to the treasury by December 15, 25 per cent by January 15, 25 per cent by February 15 and 25 per cent by March 15.

The bankers were enthusiastic in their approval of Secretary McAdoo's proposed action, and just before adjourning tonight adopted resolutions of appreciation and of confidence in the Wilson administration.

During the day they had been received by President Wilson, who told them that it was his purpose to see that all banks were fairly treated and that there should be no alliance between the government and the government of any section. He then invited the bankers to make comments and recommendations regarding details for carrying out the plan.

Each delegation explained conditions in their respective sections, indicated the amount of money which they would like to have deposited in each city, and discussed other details of the arrangement. In a statement issued tonight, Secretary McAdoo announced that as a result of the conference the following plan had been tentatively agreed to:

"The secretary proposes to accept for security for deposits government bonds and high-class state, municipal and other bonds of unquestioned standing and also prime commercial paper. All government bonds must be accepted at par; all other bonds must be passed upon by the secretary and when approved shall be accepted at 75 per cent of their market value. All commercial paper offered must be passed upon by a clearing house committee of six in each city, composed of five members of the clearing house association and one additional member not a member of the clearing house, who shall be the special representative of the department. In sub-treasury cities the sixth member of the committee will be the assistant of the treasurer of the United States resident in such cities. In cities other than the sub-treasury cities the representative will be some business man, of high character and familiar with the local banks and the secretary of the treasury.

"It is proposed that the commercial paper offered as security shall be deposited with one of the leading banks in the clearing house cities to be selected by the secretary. The bank thus designated as custodian of the commercial paper will be required to give bond for its safe-keeping in some security company satisfactory to the department.

"It is proposed that one-half of the amount allotted to each bank will be deposited with that bank in the month of August; the other 50 per cent in September. Of the funds deposited 25 per cent shall be returned by December 15, 25 per cent by January 15, 25 per cent by February 15 and the remaining 25 per cent by March 15. Some of the bankers present expressed a desire to return the entire deposits on or before January 15, and all agreed that the whole amount should be returned not later than March 15."

A second conference was held this afternoon and tonight at the Pan-American Union building. Just before its close, Secretary McAdoo made an address, in which he emphasized the determination of the government to protect and maintain its credit, and declared that all of its obligations, direct and implied, would be fully and faithfully carried out.

Motion of Appreciation.

Just before adjournment, the following resolution offered by President Walker, H. H. manager of the St. Louis clearing house association, and seconded by Robert F. Maddox of the Atlanta clearing house association, was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the southern bankers, today assembled, do express to the president and the treasury department our sincere appreciation of the relief proposed and that we agree to the terms and conditions outlined.

"Resolved, further, That we hereby express our sincere confidence in the present administration and believe that such interest and co-operation as proposed with the great agricultural sections of the country is but an indication of its desire to faithfully serve the needs of the whole republic."

KATY HEARING HAS A DAY HERE

LETTERS ON TRAFFIC MATTERS ARE IDENTIFIED FOR THE RECORD.

ALL DRY READING AT BEST

In Admitting the Letters, the Railroad Says No General Custom Has Been Violated.

By James Hays Quarles.

The state's $105,000,000 penalty suit against the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad and allied lines spent a day here yesterday and will tarry a while this morning, with Mr. Luther Nickles, assistant attorney general, conducting the very searching examination on the part of the state, the ready responses to all questions being mere identification of letters from the files of the Katy at Dallas and the Texas Central at Waco.

It is a most uninteresting proceeding. There are hundreds of the letters, in fact, at regular stenographer's rates it will take a big part of the penalty money to pay for the transcript that will get them all into the record. They are dry reading at best. All apply to the routing of freight, divisions, the handling of traffic, etc.

One letter was from J. L. West, general freight agent of the Texas Central, in which he said:

"Mr. Webb does not wish to be burdened with traffic on the Texas Central and you will confer with me regarding such matters."

In reply to this, Mr. Sperry cheerfully says, "This will acknowledge your letter June 11 regarding Texas Central traffic matters, and I will instruct my office force to furnish you with carbon copies of all correspondence on freight traffic matters."

When this letter was read Mr. Sperry testified that he did not recall a single instance in which he had conferred with Mr. West.

Purpose of Routings.

Presenting a memo of adverse routings, Mr. Nickles asked, "What is the purpose of adverse routings in the tariff?"

Mr. Sperry—To adopt desirable routing between the Texas Central and various connections.

Mr. Nickles—What were desirable routings?

Mr. Sperry—Those most advantageous to the Texas Central and the shipping public.

Mr. Nickles—What route was open between Dallas and Whitney?

Mr. Sperry—All practical routes—the M. K. & T. and Texas Central through Waco and the G. C. & S. F. and Texas Central through Morgan.

Mr. Nickles—How long was it in effect?

Mr. Sperry—As long as I have known anything about it. It is in effect now.

TARIFF MOVES SLOWLY

SHERMAN OPPOSES FIFTEEN PER CENT TARIFF ON CAR WHEELS.

Lippitt Calls Democrats "Cuttle Fish." Says It Is "Down with the Farmer."

Washington, Aug. 7.—Democrats made slow progress today in advancing the new tariff bill. An opposing speech by Senator Warren, republican, a long sharp debate between Senators Stone and Lippitt over the making of the Payne-Aldrich law and an attack by Senator Sherman upon provisions of the metal schedule took up much of the day.

Senator Sherman opposed the 15 per cent on car wheels in the bill, saying it meant ruin to American manufacturers for the benefit of those in England and Germany. Reviewing exports of wheels from this country last year, he said:

"Not a dollar's worth was exported to China in 1912 and it is reasonable to suppose that not a dollar's worth will be exported in 1913. Instead of dollar diplomacy in the far east, with thousands of dollars' worth of goods and there, we now have grape juice diplomacy and the sale of nothing."

Senator Stone brought up the question of who furnished the facts for the cotton schedule of the Payne-Aldrich bill. He quoted at length from a speech in May, 1909, of the late Senator Dilliver, in which it was charged that Senator Lippitt, not then in public life, had come to congress representing the New England cotton men with the statement that they wanted no increase and had gone away with material increases.

Senator Lippitt said the democrats were acting like "cuttle fish" and that his expose yesterday of the cotton schedule in the present bill made them anxious to discredit him. Senator Warren said the attitude of the party was, "Down with the farmer."

FIRST PEACE TREATY SIGNED

UNITED STATES AND SALVADOR TAKE STEP IN BRYAN'S INTERNATIONAL PLAN.

26 COUNTRIES ACCEPT

GREAT NATIONS OF WORLD WILL FOLLOW IN SIGNING.

CALLS FOR COMMISSION OF FIVE

Manner of Selecting Members—All Disputes to Be Investigated Before War May Be Declared.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The first of the international peace treaties, embodying Secretary Bryan's plan, was actually signed today. It was between the United States and Salvador and soon will be sent to the senate for ratification.

The terms of this convention are practically identical with the details of the international peace proposal submitted by Secretary of State Bryan to the nations of the world. Twenty-six countries, including most of the great powers, have accepted the plan in principle and it is probable that the signing of other treaties will follow in rapid succession. All will be drafted on the same general lines.

The text of the treaty follows:

"The republic of Salvador and the United States of America, being desirous to strengthen the bonds of amity that bind them together and also to the cause of general peace, have resolved to enter into a treaty for that purpose and to that end have appointed as their plenipotentiaries:

"The president of Salvador, Senor Don Frederico Mejia, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of Salvador to the United States.

"And the president of the United States, the Hon. Wm. Jennings Bryan, secretary of state.

"Who after having communicated to each other respective full powers, have agreed upon the following articles:

Article 1. The high contracting parties agree that any disputes between them of every nature whatsoever, which diplomacy shall fail to adjust, shall be submitted for investigation and report to an international commission, to be constituted in the manner prescribed in the next succeeding article, and they agree not to declare war or begin hostilities during such investigation and report.

"Article 2. The international commission shall be composed of five members, to be appointed as follows: "One member shall be chosen from each country by the government thereof; one member shall be chosen by each government from some third country; the fifth member shall be chosen by common agreement between the two governments in equal proportions.

"The international commission shall be appointed within four months after the exchange of ratifications of this treaty and its naval status shall be filled according to the manner of the original appointment.

"Article 3. In case the high contracting parties shall have failed to adjust a dispute by diplomatic methods they shall at once refer it to the international commission for investigation and report. The international commission may, however, act upon its own initiative, and in such case it shall notify both governments and request their co-operation in the investigation.

"The report of the international commission shall be completed within one year of the date on which it shall declare its intervention to have begun unless the contracting parties shall extend the time by mutual agreement.

"The high contracting parties reserve the right to act independently on the subject matter of the dispute after the report of the commission shall have been submitted.

"Not Increase Strength.

"Article 4. Pending investigation and report of the international commission, the high contracting parties agree not to increase their military or naval programs, unless danger from a third power should compel such increase, in which case the party feeling itself menaced shall confidentially communicate the fact in writing to the other contracting parties, whereupon the latter shall also be released from its obligation to maintain its military and naval status quo.

"Article 5. The present treaty shall be ratified by the president of the republic of Salvador with the approval of congress thereof, and by the president of the United States of America, by and with the advice and consent of the senate thereof, and ratifications shall be exchanged as soon as possible. It shall take effect immediately after the exchange of ratifications and shall continue in force for a period of five years; and it shall thereafter remain in force until twelve months after one

Heat in Kansas Excessive Oklahoma Also Suffers

Kansas City, Aug. 7.—Excessively high temperatures prevailed today over Southwest Oklahoma. All heat records were broken in some portions of Kansas and for the fourth consecutive day thermometer readings everywhere in Kansas climbed to the 100-mark or higher. At Emporia a temperature of 107 degrees was registered and at Leavenworth 106. Ottawa, with 107, reports a new record for the summer. Manhattan, with 104, was the coolest

Laborer Falls Heir to $1,750,000 in Germany

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 7.—Frederick Gross von Alvensleben, for twenty-seven years a day laborer, today received notice from the German consul at Chicago that he had fallen heir to an estate in Germany valued at $1,750,000.

Von Alvensleben became estranged from his family and came to America about thirty years ago. He said today he has known he would some day receive a large inheritance, but admitted that his pride had for twenty-seven years prevented his accepting an annuity of $20,000 which has been accumulating in a bank at Danzig, Germany.

When informed of his good fortune Von Alvensleben was employed as menial labor a few miles from the city. Today he engaged steamer transportation and purchased his transportation to Danzig.

GRANTS INCREASE IN WAGES

Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company Gives Motormen and Conductors Decided Raise.

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—Philadelphia Rapid Transit company today announced a further increase in the pay of its motormen and conductors to take effect on September 1. The new scale will establish a maximum rate of 20 cents an hour for the platform men on the surface lines, while the rate for motormen on the subway-elevated system is 3 cents an hour more. New men on the former lines will receive 25 cents an hour and their wages will be increased one cent an hour each year until the maximum is reached.

On the elevated-subway new men will start at 25 cents an hour. The company announced that these increases have been made possible by the co-operative system by which a percentage of the earnings are placed in a fund to increase the wages. Between 1909 and 1909 men will be affected.

Fusion Settlement.

New York, Aug. 7.—Parties to the fusion movement in opposition to Tammany in the coming mayoralty contest, expected today to have the situation as to their ticket cleared up in a harmonious way. Although no definite statement had come from District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, it was accepted as well understood that he had decided positively not to bolt the fusion ticket on which he was nominated for re-election as district attorney, instead of receiving the mayoralty nomination, which went to John Purroy Mitchell, candidate of this party.

A statement from Whitman to this effect was expected some time today. The republican leaders who have held up Mr. Whitman as a favorite, however, were still attempting to induce him to run independently and it was said that the feeling among the leaders was such that if Mr. Whitman would not run they might carry on a lone fight anyhow with some other man as candidate for mayor. Those urging a bolt were talking to Henry A. Wise, former United States attorney, as a possible candidate, but the loss disgruntled among the republicans were in favor of standing by the ticket headed by Mitchell, admitting that there is little chance of success in such a triangular fight.

Princeton Man Wilson's Aide.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Major William Harts, U. S. A., engineer corps, and R. E. Princeton University, is to be the new military aide to President Wilson and the superintendent of public buildings and grounds of the capitol. This was announced today. The announcement that Colonel Spencer Cooley, the president incumbent of the office, was about to be transferred already has been made. Major Harts has had a busy career. Appointed to the military academy at West Point from Ohio, he was awarded a degree from Princeton. His duties took him to various quarters of the world and in the San Francisco earthquake and fire he did signal service. It is likely the transfer will take place about September 1.

A Brilliant Reception

Every evening, from eight to half past ten, a brilliant reception is being held at Morrison's "Old Corner" drug store. The ladies get on their best summer clothes and the men get into their "glad rags," and all flock to the most popular place in Waco, where they can sit at comfortable tables and enjoy beautiful ice cream and other delightful things served at Morrison's "Artisan" soda fountain.

Pure, unadulterated, unpolluted Artesian water is served to all of these beautiful, gaily attired ladies, and these brave, undaunted men, and the scene is one that is hard to describe. In order to appreciate it, come yourselves, and see just what is happening.

Don't forget the time, from 8:30 to 10:30, the place, and don't forget to bring the girl.

TWO MEETINGS FOR TODAY

AT AUSTIN AVENUE CHURCH
This afternoon at 4 o'clock the Teachers' Bible Study circle will meet in the Sunday school room of the Austin Avenue Methodist church. At 5 o'clock in the same place the members of the Playground association for the orphanage will hold their weekly meeting.

A NEW FIELD ENTERED

BY WACO WOMAN
Following her year's study in New York, where she specialized in architectural art, Miss Lillian Halbert is now doing office work with local architects. Miss Halbert preceded her specializing with years of more general study at Baylor university. In this department still another Waco young woman is enjoying distinction along a professional line.

A SPECIAL NOTICE GIVEN

COTTON PALACE CHAIRMAN
The Morning News is pleased to publish the list of women's committees for the Cotton Palace just as soon as the several chairmen have these ready. Also, any notices which these chairmen desire to have published promptly. Some of the women's committees require immediate work, while others are not enlisted until nearer Cotton Palace season. The News is at the service of the women at any time and in any way.

THE TEXTILE COMMITTEE

READY TO BEGIN WORK
As chairman of the textile committee for the Cotton Palace, Mrs. J. S. Hill is the first to announce her committee assistants. These are the Mesdames S. E. Stratton, L. W. L. Aubrey and Thomas McCullough. Mrs. Hill requests that the announcement be made that she is especially desirous of having all the old ladies over sixty who continue their embroidery to make some entry. A committee meeting is intended at the late afternoon hours of this evening at the home of Mrs. Hill. The textile committee feels that their exhibits will add materially to the interest of this feature in the women's exhibits. The premium list can be had from Cotton Palace headquarters.

THE MERRY MATRONS

WITH MRS. JOHNSON
Another of the pleasant midsummer coming together of the Merry Matrons occurred on Wednesday afternoon, August 7, at the home of Mrs. Johnson, one of the latest additions to the North Fifth street colony, was the hostess. This club bears the distinction of being the only one from among the many who could sustain summer interest. Each meeting is intended as the latest, some hostess extends yet another invitation, and the disbanding does not come. It was fully expected that Mrs. Johnson should be the last, but Mrs. Furman has extended invitation for next Wednesday morning, and this invitation has been accepted. Mrs. Johnson entertained none but the Merry Matrons, who chatted and worked fancy work. The hour was altogether pleasant.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

IN A SUBURBAN HOME
Among the events of late week interest, a wedding announcement comes from the country home of Mrs. William Evans at Brookside. In this the glad news came that on the 21st of August Miss Fanny Harris becomes the bride of Lockaby Forbes McKay of Temple. After welcoming her guests, the hostess provided an interesting contest which centered around an automobile romance. Refreshments were served, during which Miss Harris was congratulated upon the coming happy event. The guest list reads: Mesdames Kathleen Trice, Margaret Trice, Bessie Shaw, Clara Evans, May Harris, McWayne of Fort Worth, with the Mesdames Guy Daughtrey, Elden Stegal, H. W. Quintus, Earl Daughtrey, John Strauss, Wesley Mann.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY LYLE

HAVE SOCIAL COURTESY
During the two weeks of their summer visit from New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lyle have had many attentions to give emphasis of a hearty welcome. In keeping with the summer dissolution, and so many absentees, nothing of the formal has been attempted, but numerous little gatherings among friends have passed the time. Mrs. Lyle has taken hand in several games of morning bridge. On Wednesday evening nineteen friends formed an escort for the banks of the Bosque. Supper was taken and the first of the moonlight nights enjoyed. Mr. Lyle is now returning to New Orleans. Mrs. Lyle spends another week with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Hill, and then takes passage for Memphis, Tenn., where she visits her mother, only to return to New Orleans. She is dinner guest at the Huaco club tonight with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Neblett.

THE FLORAL COMMITTEE

FOR THE COTTON PALACE
Among the first committees to be formed is that of Mrs. John Fall, who names as her assistants Miss Mabel Falkner, with the Mesdames A. T. Holder, Leslie Stegal and Louis Crow. Mrs. Fall proposes to have in some attractive arrangement flowers in all their phases. She will utilize choice plants grown by the women, and the choice blooms from the home gardens during Cotton Palace season. She also will exhibit all the possibilities in flowers, such as the old-fashioned hair and wax, and waxed, and seed and head, and blossoms. Another department will be the mounted and pressed flowers from historic spots. Mrs. Fall makes this as her general announcement. She opens her competition to all the county and surrounding towns, and requests all women who read this advance paragraph to decide, if possible, to enter some flower piece. Later Mrs. Fall will give her street address and more of detail as to how these entries shall be made.

THE MARY WEST CHAPTER

TO BE AT COTTON PALACE
Following the precedent of the past years, the Mary West chapter will again have a booth in the women's department of the Cotton Palace. The idea is to depart from former years and make this illustrative of the Old South, its men and women, its music and so on. Dolls will be dressed to represent the several phases of Old South life. A victrola, a piano and the Confederate choir will render the songs the Old South loved. This is only the idea in embryo, but from this the attractive details will develop. The chapter will have some of the Confederate relics, but not so many as heretofore. Also the parade on Women's day will find the Daughters of the Confederacy division. The Mary West chapter will invite the Marlin, the West and other chapters, to enter this section of the patriotic division. The chairman for the Mary West representation is Mrs. J. W. Downs. To assist her in the various sections are the Mesdames Charles Eichelberger, W. H. Forrester, George Stubbiefield, Edith Lessing, Araminta Branson, R. S. Lazenby, R. J. Alexander and Miss Decca Lamar West.

A FORMER WACO WOMAN

A SUCCESSFUL PUBLISHER
Many here recall both from the social and the musical world Mrs. Julia Cameron Montgomery. Mrs. Montgomery moved from Waco to Beaumont, where she entered the literary field, and published quite a popular society journal. Mrs. Montgomery's present home is Houston, where she has just launched another literary venture, which seems assured for unqualified success. The Houston Post gives double column headline in "Ten Thousand Looks to Tell Story of Houston's Progress." Further, it is announced that a second edition has been found necessary to meet the demand. Numerous words of commendation are appended to the notice. All assure Mrs. Montgomery that she has met a long-felt want, and that she has been a benefactor in supplying this want.

The title of Mrs. Montgomery's work is "Houston as the Setting of the Jewel—the Rice Institute." In all, the publication reaches 10,000 copies. The typographical feature is so ornate that the price of six dollars a volume is set, and yet the book is popular. While the writer has not seen the book itself, from the notes of appreciation published and the local press review, it indicates something of a directory of Houston which extends beyond the commercial life. The social and literary as well as the educational advantages are elaborated in compliment to the great institution which inspired the publication. Dr. Lovett, the president of the institute, writes: "You have done a real service, Mrs. Montgomery. That work can be done in Houston is a revelation to me."

Waco friends will be much pleased to know that Mrs. Montgomery has done something so worthy commendation from every class of Houston life, and that she is reaping the financial harvest which is now assured for her.

Society Notes.

Miss Corinne Lockridge of Austin, who has visited Miss Georgia Streeter, Streeter Place, is now the guest of Mrs. W. A. Casaday at South Eighth. Morning bridge with two tables of congenial players is the frequent diversion of the warm season.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Morrison of Waco Vista, are leaving within the coming week for a trip to New York City and other points of interest. With middle August quite a house party forms with Mrs. J. W. Bondurant and Miss Jane Moore. Expected are the Mesdames Fred Tennant and Ernest Cortines of Dallas, Miss Lena Walthall of San Antonio, and others. Mrs. Lorraine Rogers, now of Temple, will stop on her way from Kentucky, where she has been for several weeks. Mr. Rogers joins her for their wedding anniversary, and house party gayety follows.

If his condition permits, Frank Frazier will be taken from the sanitarium to his ranch home at Morgan on Saturday. This means the homecoming of the Mesdames Frazier, who have been with Waco relatives during Mr. Frazier's illness.

Miss Ida Orand has joined Mrs. W. A. Casaday at South Eighth. Miss Dunlap of Waxahachie, for this week.

The women have come to realize that

TWO IN RACE FOR HAND OF MISS CLEVELAND.

Filled with youthful ardor to win the hand of Miss Esther Cleveland, second daughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., and the late President Grover Cleveland, Messrs Herman Stump and H. Gordon Ewing, both of Baltimore, are engaged in "a race for love," which is interesting not only to the friends of the popular young woman, but a considerable portion of Baltimore society.

a moment of thoughtfulness upon the part of all will keep their department of the Morning News brimful of interest. The many notes sent are proof of this, when social life is otherwise at stagnation.

The W. W. Cameron home is closed for three weeks. During this time Mr. and Mrs. Cameron with Miss Eleanor Cameron are touring Colorado and California.

Mrs. W. W. Lastinger, as historian for the Mary West chapter, is in receipt of a letter from the state historian complimenting the chapter upon the excellent programs which Mrs. Lastinger has presented during the summer. A state prize is offered for the chapter whose program feature is best followed. The outlook is good for this prize falling to Waco chapter.

Mrs. Charles Sanger and Miss Leta May Sanger are again in America, after their summer trip to Germany. However, they remain in a cooler climate for another few weeks.

Mrs. L. Emanuel, who has been in Waukegan since her departure from Waco early in the season, is now preparing to go over to New York City for a few weeks.

For a long time we have been utilizing the marble tops from old dressers for making our pie crusts. But that is not to be any more. The porcelain top kitchen table is now coming into vogue. Aside from the opportunity for kneading, this is a decidedly sanitary table which all housewives will welcome.

Is there not some committee to be formed who will relieve the disagreeable appearance of the creek banks within the Cotton Palace grounds? If any woman will undertake to make these banks resemble even to a slight degree the banks of Carroll park, on the South Side, the entire patronage of the Cotton Palace season will arise and call that woman blessed.

Here is something for the old fogey woman, the one who lets you know at every breath that she stays at home and "tends to her husband and children." Keep in touch with the world or the world will get out of touch with you.

Some women affect so much of the "periods" in home furnish, wonder how many really can distinguish between the Tudor and the Stuart and the Georgian lines? Not one in the thousand.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Marshall are passing the last few days of their coast sojourn at Inglewood. They are due at home with this week.

What "sting" makes you read a book through? Now, do not worry your gray matter; it is only interesting.

Once in a while we do get very near the border land of hero worship in this great democratic country. When it takes an associate press notice to tell us that Mrs. William Jennings Bryan is her own chauffeur, we come very near the danger signal. Why should not Mrs. Bryan run her own car if she likes the exercise?

If you see the maltreated horse, telephone the proprietor. If he is humane he will thank you; if not, he will at least find that his course is not popular.

If we only would look ahead and do some of the many things now which we insist we can not find time to do in the busy winter, a few gray hairs, a few wrinkles, and much of a sour temper would be saved.

Mrs. Nixon of Bruceville, and Miss Georgia Streeter have gone to Hot Springs for a visit to relatives. Miss Streeter continues to visit Miss Tillie Page, also her sister, Mrs. Banks Hudson, in Virginia, and remains for a school year in Pennsylvania.

Quash Counts Against Boyd
Asheville, N. C., Aug. 7.—Many counts in an indictment against John H. Carter, former president of the American National bank, Asheville, were quashed yesterday by Judge James E. Boyd of the United States district court. Carter was indicted at Greensboro last December on charges of misappropriation of the bank's funds.

Judge Boyd held that the counts ruled out of the indictment were so worded the defendant could not know what issues he would have to meet in the trial. Decision on other counts was reserved.

AVIATOR FALLS TO DEATH

Famous Anglo-American Flyer and Inventor Drops with Passenger Three Hundred Feet.

London, Aug. 7.—Col. F. S. Cody, the famous Anglo-American aviator, was killed in an aeroplane accident at Aldershot today.

Cody was trying out a new aeroplane when he met his death. In the machine with him was a passenger named Evans, who was also killed. They were flying over the open country in the Aldershot district and had reached the government house when their aeroplane began traveling badly and finally with a crash fell to the ground. Several officials hurried up and found the bodies of Cody and Evans beneath the aeroplane.

Cody was the most interesting figure in aviation in the British Isles. He was a real soldier of fortune with a varied career behind him. He was well known to the public in England as a very popular. He wore a sombrero, a long moustache, an Imperial and long hair, looking strikingly like "Buffalo Bill." He came to England a number of years ago from the United States, where he had been a cowboy. He had a severe struggle to obtain a start in England. After living precariously for a while he attracted the attention of experts in the British war office on account of his display of natural gifts of construction, particularly in aerial machines. He was said to be able to build anything in the way of a flying machine or balloon.

His first experiments were made with box kites. These he developed on the British military training grounds at Aldershot, where 30,000 of the finest troops in the British army always are kept in readiness to march off at a moment's notice on any expedition. He achieved such success with his kites that the British war office attached him to its aviation staff.

His theatrical appearance and methods created some prejudice against him which, however, was largely dispelled when he forewore American allegiance and became a British subject. The public in England only began to take him seriously when he captured the military prize of £20,000 open to the world at Salisbury Plain in August, 1912.

Following that triumph he built seven machines and was constantly experimenting with improvements. All of his aeroplanes were heavy biplanes which his rivals considered crude in their construction but he made successful flights with some of them. He leaves a wife and his sons.

Evans was a member of the Indian civil service who had obtained leave of absence to come to England to study aviation. The aeroplane was flying at an altitude of between 200 and 300 feet when it fell.

London, Aug. 7.—Cody's sons, Leon and Frank, were eyewitnesses of the accident, which was attributed by experts to faulty construction, the body of the craft proving too heavy for the wings. The machine, they say, appeared to crumple up, the wings suddenly shooting upward and the whole structure collapsing.

$1,000,000 IN GINSENG.

United States Ships 150,000 Pounds of Plant to China.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Ginseng, for which practically the only market is China, where it is valued as a medicinal drug, has been shipped from the United States to the Orient at the rate of about 150,000 pounds, valued at more than $1,000,000, a year during the past ten years, according to a report just issued by the department of agriculture. On account of the limited market and the fact that 700 acres of this area allowing for the seven years required for maturity of the root, would raise all that is needed. Walter Van Fleet of the department's drug plant division advises against "plunging" in ginseng.

"Ginseng," he says, "offers attractive possibilities to patient cultivators who are in sympathy with the limitations of growth and the slow development of woodland plants in general and who are willing to make a considerable outlay with only scanty returns in view for several years."

The amount exported last year was 156,000 pounds, valued at $7.20 a pound. Before the wild forest supply of the plant diminished so largely it brought only 40 cents a pound. The native cultivation began only about fifteen years ago.

FOR THOSE FAT FEES.

It is a relief to look without, contemplating another State's business troubles that are precipitated by the personal financial appetites and political ambitions of public "servants." Especially is this true in the current epidemic of "trust" busting that has the southwest States in thrall. It is to grow weary of short-range shooting. Pretty nearly all that can be said has been said by that portion of Texas' press that is genuinely concerned for the State's progress and for justice to all business under the State's law administration, in depreciation of the harm that is wrought and will be worked by these indiscriminate prosecutions of enterprises that are a common necessity to all our people. So, occasionally we have taken time to commend such sensible, informed comment as that the Leader, of Springfield, Mo., brings to bear on Missouri's wild, wild "trust" troubles and their effect on business and, latterly, its remarks on Mississippi's queer attempt to mulct its only real railroad system of fifty millions and evict it from the State. We quote the Leader again, on this head:

The question of whether it is best to place public officials on a salary or fees is being discussed with much interest in the Yazoo again in view of the suit for $500,000,000 brought against the Illinois Central railroad by Attorney General Collins. The suit is brought because the Illinois Central owns the Yazoo railroad.

The right of the Illinois Central to purchase the stock of the Yazoo was granted by an act of the legislature in 1832. For over thirty years in the validity of this statute has not been questioned, and the filing of a suit at this time cannot be regarded as anything less than a flagrant breach of faith by the State.

Aside from the matter of repudiation the most serious result of this opera bouffe litigation will be the paralyzing effect it must have on industrial development in Mississippi. Barring an income-sequential short, the built out of Meridian by home capital there has not been a railway constructed in Mississippi during the last three years.

If the attorney general could collect this claim he would pocket $1,500,000. He, of course, doesn't expect to collect any such sum, but if he could make any kind of compromise he might clean up $25,000 or $50,000 which would be paid ransom. Often it is as much cheaper to compromise than to fight, even when one is in the right.

That tells the story in good, set terms and has the beauty of conciseness. When Texas' oil corporations prosecutions was terminated, the leader for the prosecution (that is, the actual leader in the peculiar line of hearings) publicly declared his disagreement with the nature of the "compromise" and his dissatisfaction with the result. It cut his fees fifty per cent. But we will not be unkind. Perhaps that was not why he was dissatisfied. Perhaps he really, conscientiously considered the State should have tried conclusions with the Magnolia, the Corsican, the Standard, New York City banks, leading business and professional men of Beaumont, Galveston, Dallas and Houston. Perhaps he believed that if the State "lay down" on its weighty, serious charges an horrible example would be set for future attorneys general and volunteer, favored trust busters. Not forgetting its effect on future juries and receiverships and public sentiment, in such cases. Perhaps it was not merely a question of those fat fees.

Yet we fancy the Leader has touched the sorest spot in these eruptions of detrimental, desperate litigation involving industrial enterprises. Every citizen of Texas who realizes the power of this incentive to bringing such suits, in the light of the history of anti-trust prosecutions in his State and with the fact in mind that the State has even gone to the length of suing certain public prosecutors to recover a portion of fees collected therefrom, must regret mightily that the fee system, root and branch, has not been blasted from the conduct of our State and county affairs. Remove the glittering prospect of adding a rich sum to any official's personal bank account—and we refer to none in particular—through the employing of the public legal machinery, and we think there will be removed the chiefest object, in many instances and in many States, of trying to take a fall out of business that more directly benefits all the people than do the activities of the most conscientious, disinterested law officer.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH PENSIONS.

In the following summary of its preliminary report the commission on pensions of the Episcopal church develops interesting information. It shows that the Episcopal church pays $8,000,000 a year in salaries to its clergy, who number 5,500. The strong plan purposed by the commission is intended not only to pension the whole body of the clergy when they become 65 years old, but also to pension the widows, to educate their orphan children, and to take care of clergymen disabled at any age. It will apply to foreign missionaries as well as to the entire United States. The pension will be approximately half-pay.

The sums of money involved are large. No less than $7,000,000 will be necessary to provide for the pension obligations at the start, and no less than $500,000 will be thereafter expended each year by the pension fund.

This pension plan is the result of a comprehensive study carried on for three years by a commission of distinguished churchmen, of which Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts is chairman, and Bishop Greer of New York, is a member. The pension plan was framed by Monell Sayre, an official of the Carnegie Foundation, and an authority on pensions, who is one of the six laymen who are members of the commission.

The plan is based upon the study of every pension system in the world, including those of governments, colleges, public school teachers, railroads, banks, etc. Facts have been collected from every Episcopal clergyman and these facts studied by eminent authorities on statistics. Some of the details of the proposed scheme are innovations in pension systems. On one fundamental principle, the method of taking care of the liabilities with which a pension fund starts, always a heavy burden in a going concern, this Episcopal church fund is considered to mark a noteworthy advance in pension history. The $500,000 a year expenditure will be provided by a tax on the local churches which will be scientifically graduated according to the age at which the clergyman was ordained. This tax will average six per cent on the salaries.

One appointment by the governor of Pennsylvania that the newspapers will hesitate to pick on is the $2,000 job he gave his old team-mate of the Chicago Cubs. Rewards for the old-timers of baseball who delighted the populace for years are too few and far between—and there is something of an afterglow in our friendship for these men.

BONDED WAREHOUSE SYSTEM.

The "bonded warehousing" system of the United States is described by an accepted authority as a system whereby the government extends the time for the payment of duties on imported merchandise, retaining them in its possession meanwhile to secure such payment. Duties on imports, it adds, naturally fall due as soon as the goods arrive in port, but the economy and convenience of importing in great quantities and in advance of their actual requirement for consumption is so great, and the immediate payment of duties would often involve such a large and unremunerative investment of the capital of importers, that the principle of warehousing goods in government custody, with a reasonable extension of time for the payment of duties, has been adopted by all leading commercial nations. The payment of duties is secured by a bond given by the importer or owner of the goods and the goods are then said to be "in bond" and the places of deposit are known as "bonded warehouses." These are chiefly warehouses owned and controlled by private parties who carry on an ordinary storage business for their own profit, the government extending its authority over them and retaining a virtual possession of and control over the goods stored therein. No person, however, has a right to keep a warehouse for the storage of dutiable goods unless appointed by the secretary of the treasury, who may revoke such appointment at his pleasure. An importer may establish his own private warehouse but it must be exclusively devoted to that purpose and under charge of a United States customs officer. The warehousing system as applied to imported merchandise was, according to the same authority, first adopted in Great Britain in 1802 and in the United States in 1846.

The amount of merchandise remaining in warehouse at the various ports at the end of each month is reported to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, and published in the Monthly Summary of Commerce and Finance.

The genial, friendly gentleman who edits Palestine Record—a worthwhile newspaper that works hard for its city's upbuilding—occasionally says a glowing say concerning the editorial page of the Morning News. His latest tribute, which is appreciated from cap. to dot, ascribes to "Col. Mose Harris" the authorship of its several features. They who are not so friendly to us say that our soul needs weeding. Well, confession is good for it—so we confess instantly that Mr. Cohen's mistake triples the value of his latest compliment. But we don't know whether Maj. Mose C. Harris, long and luminously the editor and publisher of The Texas Republic, San Antonio, will see it the same way. If our stuff is so good that the Palestine editor blames the major for it, then we are blessed with rare praise. But the major—in fear and trembling we express the hope he will deal lightly with Editor Cohen. The major has never edited a Democratic newspaper in Texas; for years he drove the snakes from the Republican party into the Democratic party, and now he is trying to foist the Progressives' snakes on the Republicans. But he has never tried to derelict the Democratic party, doubtless considering the task great beyond the power of an Hercules. Again, we thank our brother of Palestine for his slap at the shoul-der. It is "Mike" not "Mose" Harris—of antipodal cognomen but identical personal "faith."

The column of "Viewpoints" in the Waco News and the "Exchange Interviews" with photo attachment, in the Houston Post, are sometimes left out of those papers—and, sometimes those papers are better than at other times—Center Champion.

Some day, John McLendon is accidentally going to say something in his column, "Wise and Otherwise," which is going to be worse reproducing in these columns, and then—well, he won't feel so badly after he sees his name in some other paper than the Champion—Harry M. Johnston, in Houston Post.

Perhaps you don't "get" the equator gentleman, just Harry. Let's not say hard things of ourselves; let's pin medals on our negligee though all the world huri clouds. Jawn, to do him justice, occasionally does work a scintillate into "Wise and Otherwise," and it is not for us to say the "Other-wise" predominates. We prefer to think he means that when our columns do not appear our newspapers might as well not appear. Let's take it anyway, that Jawn means to praise, not to peeve. For he has carefully and, we thought, appreciatively, reprinted all we have ever written of his work in Center News, now The Champion, and apparently he found our "View-points," in this regard, to be good. But if Jawn means to knock, all we care to say is that he has a demitition short and unfraternal memory.

Something tells us that the Toledo, St. Louis & Western railroad, that has notified the postoffice department it will stop carrying mail because of alleged inadequate compensation for increased weight under the parcel post system, will not be permitted to make good its notification. The people must have its mail and the railroad must have the people and the government cannot be subjected to the same treatment frequently accorded the business shipper.

If a senatorial investigation of the copper miners' strike in Michigan will accomplish no more than did a like inquiry of the West Virginia coal fields troubles, it will be money and time wasted. And we express the hope, mildly, that if a senate committee does go to Calumet, Senator Martine's continued presence in Washington will be necessary.

If there were contributions to the Hon. Bill Sulzer's campaign fund that the Hon. Bill did not list and swear to, how extra-virtuous will be the virtuous indignation of the virtuous leaders of virtuous Tammany!

Even if Hon. John Lind "has no more immunity in Mexico than any other foreigner," Huerta and his gang had better see to it that that immunity is genuine, sure-nough immunity.

"Some folks say that a nigger won't" despite the fact that two of the race in Washington must go to jail for carrying off a brick house.

"Peace at Last in the Balkans," grows the headlines. "At last" but not "to last."

We Wish It Were Oftener. (George M. Bailey, in Houston Post.) Mercy doesn't seem to be a Waco virtue when our ball team is under consideration.

Texas Viewpoints

The Cactus, 1913.

It was a graceful compliment and a sagacious courtesy by the regents of the State University to send The Cactus of 1913 to the libraries of Texas newspapers. This beautiful volume that is a photographic and roster record of faculty, student body and organization life in the university is a welcome addition to any library and is the sort of publicity calculated to make friends for the institution.

This Defunct Ancient Should Worry.

"All roads lead to Rome," the old saying has it. And eke Terrell Transcript. "And they were good ones, too. Caesar understood that it took to make a good town. It would never have been the 'Imperial City' had it not been for the roads around it. Times have changed very little in this respect. Good towns need good roads. Kaufman county needs to learn this lesson and to realize this great truth." Yes, sir. But what a shabby way to treat poor old blind Uncle Appius Claudius, who was censor of Rome more than a couple of hundred years before the Transcript's intended "Caesar" ever made it possible for Hon. Bill Shakespeare to get his name up. It was Uncle Appius who supplanted the artistic with the practical in the Helvetian road precinct, and he had no bond issue or commissioners' court behind him, at that. If the old fellow were not petrified, the Transcript's misheavens praise would excuse him for doing a contortion in his resting place.

Looks Black for "Blue Sky."

Some of our legislators apparently are afraid that if they vote for a "blue sky" law, an honest stock-sale regulation, they will be accused of paternalism, populism and interference with puss-onal lib. It was so last winter, and it now appears the "blue sky" bill will die on the calendar of the special session. "A substantially constructed blue sky" law would at least reduce the number of transient solicitors for oil, mining, insurance and sundry other schemes which will usually need investigation," sensibly sums-up Clarksville Times. And it would afford other much-needed protection and make for stability and dependableness in the conduct of stock-selling corporations generally. However, when nonfeasance on the part of those in duty bound to root out the tares in the business field results in nurturing a sucker crop, the harvesters of the crop would be asinine if they did not go the limit.

Each to His Taste.

Carrizo Springs Javelin may be envied its luff on such a plaguey business. "It makes us laugh," it tells us, "to read the advertisements of the health resorts in the north, seeking to get people from this balmy climate to go up there to escape the heat, and then in an adjoining column read the reports of the people dying by scores in that same section, all heat prostrations, while down here we are sleeping with cover over us every night. Course if you've got a bunch of money that's burning your pockets, it's all right to take a trip, but don't call it necessary on account of the climate." Orlight, we'll respect your patriotic wish—although reading reports of death from heat and sunstroke has never made us laff. But the fact remains that in the summer resorts of north and east there is cool breeze, too; salt air and invigorating sweeps from the mountains. Texas cities are not blanket marts in summer. The Carrizo country must be singularly blessed.

The Fishyarn Four.

A Minnesota man insists that he caught a bass that had swallowed a watch, and the watch was still running when the bass became his'n, which prompts Col. L. Peruchino Lochridge to this Statesmanette: "It is up to Klamity Bonner, William Martin Thornton, Allison Mayfield and John L. Peeler to hold a conference to devise a better fish story." Any one of 'em, especially Gen. Hop o' My Thungh Thornton, the delay-a-second juvenile, could conjure up a better piscatorial phantasm. When the State House pool was ravished of its lone, Lone Star catfish—an high crime, let it be well understood, with which Gen. Thornton had absolutely nothing to do—it is reported that the Hon. Mayfield chuckled for hours at the prospect of having an unique fish fancy to foist—on Gen. Thornton. There is no fish in the history of Texas takings so fat that any member of this quartet, according to himself, has not landed a fatter.

And so it is that it keeps our police busy trying to run down the crooks the rest of the country is unloading upon this little old town.

Should Receive Maximum Punishment.

(Greenville Banner.) The Waco chief of police, Capt. Barron, says that automobile speeding is almost as great a menace as pistol toting. Recently before the police chiefs of the state the Waco officer said:

"Nearly as great a menace to society as pistol toting is the speeding of automobiles. The suggestion that I have to make with reference to the violation of the speed laws and traffic laws is that the judges of the corporation courts impose upon the violators of this law the highest punishment fixed by ordinances, irrespective of the class, color, kind or previous condition of the violator of the law. The maximum punishment assessed against all violators will materially diminish the use of gasoline in most of our cities."

The speeder is a menace to life. There is no doubt about it, and his speedy domination is urged on every newspaper. The newspapers have done their part and are doing their part to drive the joy riders from the highways of the country. If Capt. Barron's suggestion will help to do it, put it into practice.

Beaumont's New Port.

"Swapping Dollars with Uncle Sam" is the title of an article in the July number of National Waterways, a magazine of transportation published in Washington by the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. The article tells of Secretary T. W. Larkin of the Chamber of Commerce and tells very interestingly of Beaumont's deep water project and how it is being carried to fulfillment.

Leading up to the inception of Beaumont's project, the article tells the story of Port Arthur's progress and how a port was made on the prairie—how, when Arthur E. Stillwell could not build his railroad to the gulf, he brought the gulf to the railroad. The building and utilization of the Port Arthur canal is described and then the effort to interest the government in Beaumont's deep water project is taken up and told in an interesting way. The article closes with this paragraph:

"Tonnage naturally seeks the nearest port, and Beaumont will be the nearest port for a large and heavy tonnage-producing territory. When the Beaumont-Waco railroad is constructed, Beaumont will be the nearest port to south, central and southeast Texas, and the nearest port for at least 75 per cent of the Texas tonnage, and the nearest port for Oklahoma, Kansas, southwest Louisiana and southwest Arkansas. The greatest ports of the world are inland ports—Liverpool, on the Mersey; Glasgow, on the Clyde; London, on the Thames; Bristol, on the Avon; Hamburg, on the Elbe; Paris, on the Seine; New York, on the Hudson; New Orleans, on the Mississippi; Manchester, on the Manchester canal. Why not Beaumont, on the Neches?"

The article is beautifully illustrated with scenes in and around Beaumont and Port Arthur.

Earth Erosion.

The surface of the United States is being removed at the rate of thirteen thousandths of an inch a year, or one inch in 700 years, according to the United States geological survey. Though this amount seems trivial when considered as a total, for over 270,000,000 tons of dissolved matter and 512,000,000 tons of suspended matter are transported to tide-water every year by the streams of the United States. This total of 783,000,000 tons represents more than 350,000,000 cubic yards of rock substance, or 610,000,000 cubic yards of surface soil. If this erosive action had been concentrated upon the isthmus of America at the time of the American occupation it would have excavated the prism for an 85-foot level canal in about seventy-three days. The amounts removed from different drainage basins show interesting comparisons. In respect to the West, the Colorado, the Southern Pacific basin heads the list with 177 tons per square mile per year, the Northern Atlantic basin being next with 139 tons. The rate for the Hudson Bay basin, 28 tons, is lowest; that for the Colorado and the Gulf of Mexico basins is somewhat higher. The denudation estimates for the Southern Atlantic basin correspond very closely to those for the entire United States. The amounts are generally lowest for streams in the arid and semi-arid regions, because large areas there contribute little or nothing to the runoff. The Southern Pacific basin is an important exception to this general rule, presumably because of the extensive practice of irrigation in that area. The amounts are highest in regions of high rainfall, though usually the waters in those sections are not so highly mineralized as the waters of streams in arid regions.

A New Use for the "Movies."

The moving picture machine has rendered countless services to a generation eager for enlightenment and fun. It has shown us train robbers at their work, flowers unfolding from bud to bloom, and the mechanical processes by which a great daily newspaper is produced.

Now Mr. Charles Frohman employs this remarkable invention in a way that is likely to revolutionize the art of acting. He has made a company of rehearsal in order that the players may see themselves act. If, as is generally believed, actors believe more firmly in their own gifts than do members of other artistic callings, the result will be a more perfect and a more realistic picture. The painter can view his picture dispassionately, the novelist can read what he himself has written and the musician can listen with trained ear to his own composition, but the player cannot see himself act. It is not easy to foresee the result of Mr. Frohman's interesting and important experiment. It is possible that actors who for years have defied the exhortations of the stage manager, the yawns of the public and the sarcasm of the critic, may at the greater prominence the moment they see themselves act, while others will become more hardened in sin. In either event the experiment is well worth while.

McADOO HELPS HENRY.

Waco Congressman Says His Contentment Is Proved. (Washington Correspondence New York Sun.)

Democratic leaders in congress, interested in the passage of the banking and currency reform bill contended today that Secretary McAdoo of the treasury has made a tactical blunder in giving out his statement charging that New York banks had entered into a conspiracy to depress the price of United States 2 per cent bonds.

It was apparent that Secretary McAdoo has nullified all the president's efforts to divorce the so-called money trust agitation from the banking and currency question. The president has been using his influence for several weeks to side with Representative Henry and his followers, who have been insisting on a renewal of the "money trust" hunt and the incorporation of "money trust" legislation in the banking and currency program.

The president had succeeded fairly well up to this time, but now Mr. McAdoo has introduced a bill today to authorize the treasury to buy outstanding 2 per cent bonds from banks at par and interest, if the banks owning them so desire. The measure is intended to prevent depreciation of the 2s.

Chairman Owen of the senate banking committee introduced a bill today to authorize the treasury to buy outstanding 2 per cent bonds from banks at par and interest, if the banks owning them so desire. The measure is intended to prevent depreciation of the 2s.

Senator Owen's plan is to cancel outstanding gold certificates as they come into the treasury; issue treasury notes, redeemable in gold in their stead; transfer the gold represented by the gold certificates to the redemption division; cancel the 2 per cent bonds; issue 2 per cent in the stead and supply national bank notes with treasury notes.

The Owen bill is a distinct measure and has no direct relation to the administration currency bill now proceeding in the house.

Senator Owen said his plan would establish in this country a great redemption fund, such as all other countries have, and that this would have a psychological effect in maintaining financial stability. The reser fund, he estimated, would thus consist of $1,235,000,000 in gold and $720,000,000 in bonds, or a total reserve of $1,955,000,000, against total note issues of $2,152,000.

"His Own Room" Satisfies a Boy.

(Clinton S. Wade in Mother's Magazine.)

It is a proud moment in the life of a boy when he reaches the age where his parents declare that he "must have a room all to himself," and it marks a kind of "growing up" childhood. Many a discontented boy is so, largely because he is forced to "bunk in" with several other children, having few things individual that he can call his own. The escape from that condition should be a most welcome one, at least. Jimmie had to sleep "two in a bed" in a room which itself partly served as storage room for certain out-of-season clothing belonging to all members of the Smith household. Often he would look around and wish that he had a nice little room "all to his own self," and finally his mother deemed the matter so important that she brought it to the attention of father.

"But," replied the head of the house, "there isn't another spare room below the attic. That small room over ours would be just the thing only that the window in it is too high and Jimmie couldn't more than see out by standing up."

"I have thought that out, father, and I have it in mind to suggest how we could change things over up in the attic room so as to make it a delightful place for our boy, and I believe it would change his attitude toward everything, and make him do his share of the housework, and go to the city to work, as he now so constantly hints."

"But the window—how shall we get over that difficulty?"

"If Jimmie can't have the window come down to him he must go up to it. My plan is to build a little double stair platform up to it, to make a window seat. I measured it last week and got Mr. Wood, the carpenter, to estimate the cost."

"How much?" asked Mr. Smith.

"Well, he said it wouldn't cost more than $5, even with the hinges and stain."

"The hinges! What hinges?" questioned Father Smith, puzzled at the mention of hardware in such connection.

"Oh, I didn't tell you, did I? It occurred to me to hinge the top boards of the steps—the window seat proper—and the 'step' approach to it, and thus make a containing box of each, where Jimmie could sit and read or write or work out of the way of dust. It would save work for me."

"Fine idea, mother; fine idea! I'll see Wood today and have that job done right away, while you plan out some pretty sort of stairs for the rest of the room. And this was done."

Now, should you knock at the light green door of the little room over mother's you would be ushered into it by a very proud little man whose entire outlook on life has apparently been changed since he saw things from his beloved window seat; where he may so often be found curled up reading or playing the mouth organ, which last he loves to do.

Aviator's Indebtedness.

Paris, Aug. 6.—Debts amounting to over $3,000,000 are included in the liabilities of Armand de Perdussin, the aeroplane inventor, who was arrested here yesterday for forgery. Against these liabilities his assets, which are somewhat vague, are estimated at $4,000,000. His bankers hold his paper for $4,000,000, while other creditors claim $1,600,000.

Newspapers here recount many stories of De Perdussin's personal extravagance. He was the foremost patron of aviation in France and spent money with the utmost lavishness. He always felt confident that aviation would develop rapidly and his expenditures were based on this expectation.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 7.—Seventy-five per cent of the apple shippers of the country, who handle $100,000,000 of the fruit each year, are attending the nineteenth annual convention of their association in this city. The opening session yesterday was devoted to the hearing of reports of committees.

Wives of the delegates visited Forest Hill on invitation of John D. Rockefeller.

TO OPPOSE THE CURRENCY BILL

LEADER MANN SAYS FIGHT WILL MATERIALIZE IN THE HOUSE.

OWEN INTRODUCES A BILL

Plans to Prevent Depreciation of United States Two Per Cent Bonds to Administration Measure.

Washington, Aug. 7.—No determined opposition to the administration currency bill will be adopted by republicans in the house, according to Leader Mann. He declared the measure would be so perfected that many republicans would vote for it.

Representative Mann thought that while the house would pass the bill at this session, it would be held up in the senate and that an agreement probably would postpone a final vote until the December session.

Chairman Owen of the senate banking committee introduced a bill today to authorize the treasury to buy outstanding 2 per cent bonds from banks at par and interest, if the banks owning them so desire. The measure is intended to prevent depreciation of the 2s.

ORR LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Clause Which Impelled More Than 100 Insurance Companies to Leave
Missouri Will Not Stand.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 7.—Acting on the assurance of Attorney General Barker of Missouri today that he considered unconstitutional the clause in the Orr insurance law which impelled more than a hundred fire insurance companies to withdraw from the state last June, attorneys representing the companies today sent to the main offices letters advising them to return to Missouri.

This result was reached at a conference here today between the attorney general and the insurance attorneys, at which the former made a verbal promise to discontinue the supreme court suits to penalize the companies on a charge of conspiracy to withdraw from the state.

The promise was made on condition that 75 per cent of the companies return. The attorney general also will dismiss the case against the 25 per cent that say their Missouri business has been conducted at a loss and that therefore they do not desire to return.

The attorney general agreed that if any county prosecutor institutes a case against the companies based on the clause in the Orr law that makes the use of a common rate card prima facie evidence of violation of the anti-trust law he will order the case dismissed. It is expected resumption of business will take place about August 12, 1913.

Cleveland, Aug. 7.—The Ohio Liquor League, the official organization of the retail liquor dealers of the state, is planning a campaign to prevent women from drinking in public places. Its officers declare that if this and other reforms are not made Ohio will go dry in two years.

The league would bar women from the right to be served with intoxicating liquor in any place licensed under the new state law which became effective yesterday.

The effect of the campaign if successful would be to abolish grill rooms, beer gardens and road houses.

GRAND JURY INVESTIGATES

Disregards Amateur Detectives and Police in Brown Murder Mystery. Many Witnesses Examined.

Dallas, Aug. 7.—The Dallas county grand jury probe into the mystery surrounding the brutal murder of Miss Florence Brown, Monday, July 28, may possibly result in an indictment being returned against persons deemed guilty of the killing.

Apparently disregarding the efforts of regular police authorities and amateur detectives, intent upon the immediate arrest of the perpetrator of the most horrible crime in the records of the community, the grand jurors have gone ahead from the very start and have not ceased their investigations for a moment.

Reports from the court house are to the effect that from fifty to seventy-five witnesses have appeared before the jurors. It is stated that some of the witnesses have been subpoenaed from out-of-town cities and it appears to outside observers that an entirely new angle of the case has been struck. Witnesses appearing in the grand jury room have consisted in about equal numbers of officers and private citizens. In many cases the people giving information have been most careful in concealing their identity. Witness after witness has flatly refused to give his name, it is reported. Several women also have appeared before the investigating body.

The result of ten days of detailed investigation, of course, has not been announced. It is likely that some report will be made before long concerning the findings of the body. In conjunction with the earnest efforts of the grand jury the various county officers have also been remarkably active. Meetings are held almost every night in which County Attorney Currie, McCutcheon, Assistant Noah Roark and Judge W. L. Crawford Jr. figure. Various grand jurors are also frequently seen at the police station in company with officials interested in the case.

BIG FIRE AT PHILADELPHIA

Four Large Manufacturing Plants Are Threatened with Destruction and Many Families Endangered.

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—Four large manufacturing plants were threatened with destruction, several firemen burned or overcome by smoke, and many families had to flee from their homes, when the plant of the Union Petroleum company, which occupied an entire block in the southern section of the city was virtually destroyed by a spectacular fire late today. The loss is estimated at $125,000.

The fire started in the storage house where there were many thousands of barrels of oil. These exploded with a deafening roar and when firemen reached the big plant it was blazing in a score of places. The flames communicated to a 110,000 gallon tank which exploded, sending burning oil in all directions.

There were eighty tanks in the yard, each with a capacity of 400 barrels and twenty of these exploded within an hour.

The cause of the fire is not known. Firemen rushed to the scene from a ladder when one of the tanks exploded and was so badly injured it is feared he will die. Other firemen and spectators suffered less serious injuries, caused by burning oil carried through the air by a brisk wind.

2,000 BEES STING FERRY CROWD.

Considerable Action when Box Holding Hives Spills Open.

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—Two thousand busy little bees raised much turmoil and excitement at the Market street ferry this afternoon. A large packing box containing two hives with 1,000 bees was being shipped to Philadelphia, N. J. When the drayman reached the ferryhouse the box slipped off and fell to the street and burst open.

The enraged bees at once mixed with a crowd of 4,000 commuters and then action began. Jacob Buehler, a spirited horse rode into the fray. His steed was stung and tried to stampede into the crowd.

Finally the crate was pulled on the ferryboat Camden and when she left her slip the 2,000 bees flew after it, making life uncomfortable for everybody on the boat. Had the queens left either of the hives it is estimated that traffic at the ferry would have been suspended for the rest of the day.

Aviator Bryant Killed.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 7.—The aeroplane in which John F. Bryant, a California aviator, had made 599 flights, failed him on the 600th here late yesterday, plunging down to the roof of a business building. Bryant was killed, a heavy woman, who insisted on climbing into the machine each week to have her picture taken, was said by Bryant's friends to have been the indirect cause of the accident. The fragile seat, unaccustomed to such weight, was damaged and was believed never to have been fully repaired, thereby weakening a wire attachment to the steering gear.

He was McKinley's Assistant Secretary of State during the Spanish American War, and he then guided the administration through the crisis with Germany after the battle of Manila Bay, and he bore the brunt of the consequent readjustment in world relations.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 7.—Attacking the testimony of James Conley, chief witness for the prosecution in the trial of Leo M. Harry Scott, representative of a national detective agency employed by the pencil company, testified that Conley repeatedly had told him one thing and the city detectives another.

In L. W. Childs, introduced to contradict testimony as to the time of the girl's death and other material points, characterized evidence similar to some of that offered by Doctors Harris and Hurt as "remarkable guess work."

CAN'T PAY $15 OUT OF 38 CENTS.

Designer Sued for More Alimony on Strength of "Raise."

New York, Aug. 7.—Is a woman whose husband gets an increase of 38c a week in pay entitled to $15 a week more alimony? This question was submitted to Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum yesterday and he refused to pass on it, but appointed Bernard M. L. Ernst referee to take testimony and report.

The woman is Mrs. Annie Diamond of 60 West 114th street, who got a decree of separation from Max Diamond, a designer of women's gowns, in 1909. At that time Diamond was ordered to pay his wife $20 a week.

Mrs. Diamond asked for an increase because her husband has received "material increase in salary" and her own expenses are greater. Diamond replied that he was getting $113 a week when ordered to pay his wife $20 a week and is now receiving $6,000 a year, so that the increase is only 38c a week.

MURDERS AT PARIS.

Two Men Found Dead on Railroad Tracks.

Paris, Aug. 7.—Sam McMillan and a friend known only as "Joe," were murdered, according to the police, near Paris. The bodies apparently had been placed on the Paris and Mount Pleasant railroad track after death, for they had been dismembered and scattered for 300 feet along the right of way. A robbery was committed last night near the scene of the killing, and the police are searching for negroes suspected of both the killing and the robbery.

Charged with Blackmail.

Los Angeles, Aug. 7.—Charged with having attempted to blackmail two women through a fictitious detective agency, F. E. Young, an automobile dealer and prominent church worker of Long Beach, is imprisoned pending a grand jury investigation. A detective letter in his writing machine, it was said, was responsible for Young's arrest after Mrs. Kittie Bahrenburg, a member of Young's church, had told her story to the district attorney.

Mrs. Bahrenburg said Young paid arrest court to her and shortly afterward she received a letter from the Sunset Detective Agency, saying in effect: "We know all and unless you pay $500 at once your church will also know all."

The detective agency letter contained a purported copy of a letter in which Young promised to pay $5,000 hush money.

Mrs. Bahrenburg called on Young and she said he advised her to pay. She tried to borrow the $500 from her banker and told him the purpose for which she needed it. On the banker's advice she laid the case before the district attorney.

Supposed Widow of Governor Dying

Chattanooga, Aug. 7.—The old woman detained here on complaint that she was passing as the widow of former Governor Alcorn of Mississippi, is thought to be dying in a hospital. Today J. A. Reeder, grandson of Governor Alcorn, who came here from St. Louis to investigate the matter, had an interview with the woman. She confessed that she had posed as Mrs. Alcorn and had carried on her operations all over the south and had in this way collected thousands of dollars. She says she is the widow of the late James K. McClellan of Charleston, S. C., and that she was the daughter of Daniel Cook. She claims to have reared Mrs. R. N. Abbey of Atlanta, whom she says was a Snowden of Memphis.

STILL SEEK JEWELRY THIEVES

Detectives Trace Part of the $150,000 Booty to New York, But Fail to Find Robbers.

New York, Aug. 7.—Private detectives working on the case of the $150,000 jewelry robbery of Mrs. John E. Hanan, which occurred at Narragansett Pier, R. I., July 25 last, announced today that some of the jewels had been traced to New York. An attempt was made by two men to sell what is believed to be a part of the Hanan gems to a downtown jeweler, the detectives say, but the vendors became frightened and hastened from the store when questioned.

Was to Wed; Suicides.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—Frank Weiter, a barber, this morning dressed himself carefully and completed all arrangements for his wedding, scheduled to take place at 9 o'clock. He then went to his room and fired two shots into his breast. They proved ineffective and he fired another shot at his head, but sustained no injury other than a flesh wound. He pulled the trigger of the revolver and the bullet went wild. When physicians arrived to remove him to a hospital he refused assistance and walked unaided to the ambulance. It is believed he will recover. Weiter gave no reason for his act.

Aged Man Found Dead.

Gainesville, Aug. 7.—Uncle Henry Welch, aged 70, who mysteriously disappeared from his home here about three months ago, was found today near Gainesville, ten miles from Gainesville. The body was in a sitting posture against a tree and near it was a bottle of carbolic acid. The body was badly decomposed, all parts of the flesh which were exposed being entirely gone, with the bones showing. Letters in his clothing gave a clue as to his identity.

Welch suffered from a delusion that he was to be taken to the county poor farm.

Napier Weakens in Seventh and Navigators Win 4 to 1

Houston Pitcher Loses to Waco After Taking Seven Straight Victories—Navs Score on Extra Base Hits

TEXAS LEAGUE.

Standing of the Teams.	Won	Lost	Pct.
Houston	72	44	.621
Dallas	67	51	.568
Waco	61	54	.529
San Antonio	60	59	.505

Galveston	53	68	.438
Beaumont	47	73	.392

What's the use? says "Seven-in-a-row" Napier, and one can't blame him. It was discouraging. After he had carefully fostered that string of seven straight wins, after he had strung them on carefully, one by one, when he had the eighth in his hand, and was just preparing to put it away with the label "1 to 0" and was about to snap his fingers, whisper "seven, won, eleven" and tie the record with Joe Boehling—just then to wake up and find a gang of rowdy sailors punching holes in his pipe dream as fast as they could get to bat.

Yes, indeed, he had a right to say "What's the use?"—if he couldn't think of anything more appropriate to say. "New York American" Reynolds thought he had put that game away in a fire-proof vault, when he slapped his single out to McLaurin and shoved Britton across the counter. Napier was pitching, and Napier loved above all things to take a game 1 to 0. So why should "N. Y. A." Reynolds worry and lose his voice? Which proves that the old nut was right when he said, "A fifty-mile gait goeth before a blow-out."

Napier walked Crichlow, when the Navs opened fire after the Buffalo count. Tanner was up next—the same Tanner who had left three shipmates stranded the day before. Tanner must have been thinking how unfortunate that conduct was. Anyhow, when he saw Crichlow beating it for second, he was afraid Reynolds might peg him out; so he reached out with his stick and put the ball right down in right field by the club house for safe keeping, until Crichlow should get out of danger. And Crichlow, in order to be perfectly safe, came back to the bench by way of home plate.

Maybe Reynolds didn't feel so safe about that game in his fire-proof safe then. Before he had time to worry Duguey dynamited the safe with a single to right that brought Tanner to the plate. It was all over then except a few fireworks to wind up with, and show Napier it was bound to come one way or another.

Wohleben sent a near two-bagger to right in the first of the eighth, which Davis handled fast enough to hold him on first—to hold him there temporarily. He had to move on before he got stiff on account of Renard knocking the ball out to left center for the three-bagger, and home plate was the only station left for Wohleben. Then Crichlow wound it up with a clean double to left, scoring Renard. After which, the stands flew out two hoarse to talk any more, so there wasn't any use of continuing the amusement.

The Game by Innings. Napier had Navigators worrying him on bases five innings out of the first six, but pulled out with the assistance of a couple of double plays. Ashton was not troubled as often, but was busy a good part of the time. All the scoring was done in the seventh and eighth.

Britton, first up for Houston in the seventh, singled to McLaurin. Newman fanned. Knaupp grounded out. Beck to Wohleben. Reynolds singled to McLaurin, scoring Britton. Napier fanned for the third out.

Crichlow led off in Waco's half of the seventh and drew a pass. On a hit and run play, Tanner scored him with a double to right field. Reilly flew out to Whitman. Ashton fanned. Duguey singled to right while Tanner was stealing third and Tanner came home. Duguey stole second. McLaurin flew out to Akin.

With two down in the first of the eighth Davis walked, but Whitman drove a hard fly to Crichlow.

In the last of the eighth, with one down, Wohleben singled to Renard, scored him with a triple to deep left center. Crichlow scored Renard with a double to left field fence. Tanner and Reilly flew out.

Newman came one down in the ninth, but Knaupp grounded out. Beck to Wohleben, and Reynolds fanned out.

Fort Worth, Aug. 7.—Only one Panther reached second base in this afternoon's game with Beaumont and only three saw the first station, Ducky Swan having the locals completely at his mercy, blanking Fort Worth in the third game of the series 7 to 0. The Beaumont southpaw did not issue a pass and allowed only three hits, while Sorrells was rapped hard and opportunely.

Bremser and McMahon tripped to the right field fence in the sixth, which, with a walk, a sacrifice and Swan's bingle, netted the visitors three runs.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Anyhow, San Antonio gets some sat-

ond division.

It's about time Ware started in for Houston this afternoon. Dallas landed on him at Houston last week. Nobody wishes him any hard luck—but Waco

is as good a team as Dallas.

Whitman oughtn't to be so rough with his bat when he fans out.

We are glad Mr. Knaupp has turned the burden of winning over to other players. (Note: Mister is a title of respect.)

It hasn't been reported how much of the Austin fence was left after that 11-to-9 game.

We didn't catch what Duguey said when Umpire Matthews called him out at second yesterday.

UHLMAN

Uhlman, driven by "Doc" Tanner, lowered all marks for Michigan tracks at Grand Rapids. Mr. C. K. G. Billings' great black gelding was started to lower the Comstock track trotting record of 2:03 1/4, established by Duddy Archdale two years ago. He not only did this with ease, but also bettered by three seconds the State record of 2:02 1/4, stepped by Hamburg Belle at Detroit four years ago. Uhlman's time was 1:59 1/4.

Architects Fall Out Over the Contracts for New York Station.

New York, Aug. 7.—A financial dispute between the architects for the new Grand Central Station has come into the supreme court through a suit by Allen H. Stern, as surviving partner of Reed & Stern, against the firm of Warren & Wetmore.

Warren & Wetmore filed an answer asking an accounting under an agreement entered into with both firms by the new York Central in 1904 for the construction of the new station in New York and under later contracts for passenger stations at Yonkers, Hastings, Catskill and Watertown; the up-town American Express building and the Baltimore hotel.

Warren & Wetmore filed an answer yesterday admitting that it holds $203,233 in the bank received under these contracts, but alleging that the firm of Reed & Stern has been more than fully paid for its share of the money, and that the plaintiff is actually indebted to the defendants.

British Statesman Relates Amusing Experience in Calcutta.

London, Aug. 7.—The historic feat of the late Duke of Devonshire in yawning to the delight of Disraeli, in the middle of his own maiden speech in the Commons is generally reckoned unique of its kind. But it is positively obliterated by an incident that was described lately by Sir Guy Fleetwood Wilson, who has just retired from the office of finance member of the council of India.

Sir Guy was recalling in a speech at a farewell dinner the great changes that had come about in the Viceroy's legislative council as a result of Lord Morley's act. Four years ago, when Sir Guy Wilson began to work in India, it was a body of only twenty-one members, and he remembered well the day on which he was required to answer the criticisms of his first budget.

Sir Guy said: "It was on the 29th of March, 1909, and the day was abnormally hot and close, even for that time of year in Calcutta. Partly owing to the heat, but largely no doubt owing to the wearisome effect of my first attempt at oratory, one by one every single member present went to sleep; and it is the simple truth that after a while I actually fell asleep in the course of the delivery of my statement."

Eagles Elect Officers.

For the most unique uniforms, Dixie Aerie No. 28, Richmond, Va., won first prize.

BOY FAILS TO TAME TIGER

Big Striped Cat Almost Makes Meal of the Young Would-be Hypnotist.

New York, Aug. 7.—"Jack the Lion Tamer," a 10-year-old boy who got the notion that he could subdue the wildest of wild beasts by looking them in the eye, had a narrow escape from serious injury in the Central park menagerie yesterday afternoon when he tried to hypnotize Dick, the savage Siberian tiger.

Dick was lying near the iron bars of the outer cage when the young lion tamer came along. The boy had been caught pulling a lion's tail several times this summer and had been warned of the danger.

He got inside the railing, approaching the tiger's cage, and put a hand and arm between the bars. Then he called to Dick as he would to a dog, while looking him in the eyes.

The big tiger hasn't lost any of his savage nature since arriving at the park, and when he saw the arm in his cage his muscles stiffened for action. His ears went back and his lips curled. A group of men stood near, but no one warned the boy of his peril.

The lad thought he had the beast subdued and was bringing his hand closer and closer. Keeper George Sichert happened to go outside and, seeing the situation, grabbed the boy by the collar and pulled him back just as the tiger leaped toward the boy's hand.

One of Dick's claws tore the boy's index finger. The keeper gave him a lecture and expelled him from the menagerie.

S. DREW CAMINETTI AND MAURY DIGGS FACE JURY.

MARSHA WARRINGTON

LOLA NORRIS

The trial of S. Drew Caminetti and Maury Diggs, charged with having violated the Mann white slave law, began August 5 at San Francisco. It promises to furnish the liveliest sort of legal fight. Agents and attorneys acting for the defendants have been engaged rounding up witnesses to testify concerning the characters of Martha Warrington and Lola Norris, the girls with whom Caminetti and Diggs fled from Sacramento to Reno.

Attorneys for Diggs have been especially active filling the names of character witnesses to be subpoenaed. With a deputy United States marshal Diggs went to Sacramento and secured a number of witnesses whose testimony will concern automobile rides and other incidents in which Miss Warrington, the girl he accompanied to Reno, figured before the escapade which resulted in the arrests.

Salmon, Ore., Aug. 7.—With their heads almost severed from their bodies, three Japanese, Koye Kowa and Mrs. Tami Koda and her child, were found tonight dead in an alley near a restaurant owned by the woman's husband, Y. Koda. Beside the bodies were found two bloody knives and a revolver.

Koda and a companion were arrested. The police admit that they seem to have a satisfactory alibi.

Baseball Fence Blows Away.
Chicago, Aug. 7.—Part of the fence of the Chicago National League park was blown down in a wind and electrical storm that swept over Chicago at midnight. New York, Aug. 7.—While the Frayley legislative committee's investigation of the campaign funds and contributions of Governor Sulzer stands tonight incomplete, it was learned that the committee plans within ten days to select from the various instances, where it has been testified contributions were made that were never reported by the governor, several that appear to show that Mr. Sulzer did not comply with the law, and place them before the legislature. The committee hopes that the assembly will vote upon the question whether impeachment proceedings will be brought against the governor.

NO STREET RULES FOR KING.

Alfonso Goes Wrong Way in Rue de Richelieu, Paris.

Paris, Aug. 7.—King Alfonso of Spain is immune from the traffic regulations of Paris.

The king was automobiling this afternoon with Queen Victoria on a shopping tour and passed through the Rue de Richelieu, where automobiles and carriages must travel in one direction only. A policeman saw an automobile entering on the restricted side and was going to stop it when another policeman whispered, "Don't; that's Alfonso." The policeman, who was afraid of a violation of the traffic regulations, turned on his heel and the king's auto went on its way.

King Alfonso and the queen left for Madrid this evening. President and Mme. Poincaré and many army officers and government officials saw them off. There were cries of "Vive Roi!" from the throng at the railway station. In the morning the king and queen visited jewelry shops to buy gifts for their children. They had luncheon at the Spanish embassy.

MIDDLE STATES ARE HOPEFUL

Bankers and Business Men of Section Expect Increase in All Lines.

New York, Aug. 7.—Business men in New York city are optimistic. J. S. Alexander, president of the Bank of Commerce, said:

"Relative to inquiry as to how we view present business conditions in the United States and the outlook for the ensuing months of the year, we would say that in some lines of business close to the maximum volume still is being done; in other lines moderate recessions are noted, and in others, particularly those most largely affected by proposed tariff changes, very material curtailment is in evidence."

"Underlying conditions are good, the buying power of our people is great, as it is possible to obtain steady employment at good wages, and on the whole a large volume of business is being done with reasonable profit. It is surprising that this is so at a time when changes in our tariff laws are imminent, when the defects of our currency system are being discussed and new currency legislation is in contemplation and when money requirements are fully equal to the supply."

"Although further recessions in business may be looked for as a result of close money markets and necessary adjustments to new conditions we reasonably may expect in the absence of general labor troubles, a continuance of business activity, which after the settlement of pending questions should increase rather than diminish."

"As to money, the temporary requirements of our transportation interests have been heavy, due to their inability to sell bonds at fair rates, and other corporations, manufacturers and merchants have been large borrowers, but these demands have all been for legitimate business purposes. A result, however, has been a scarcity of money, and this situation has been aggravated by our heavy shipments of gold on European account, aggregating upwards of $5,000,000 since the beginning of the year."

"Various factors in the foreign situation have adversely affected our money markets, as financial conditions in Europe are even less favorable than with us. Affairs in Europe now are apparently working in the direction of improvement, and sentiment abroad and in this country is now General Rafael De Nogales Mendez, one of the foremost of the "Young Turks" element, who hails from the border State, which gave Castro to Venezuela, sailed from the United States for Venezuela, where he will lead the nationalist party. Before sailing he said: "We are going to fight both Castro and Gomez, neither of whom represents our ideas of good leadership. TO THE CLIENTS OF THE Dilworth Abstract Co.

If you are the legal owner and holder of any note executed prior to July 14, 1905, secured by any character of lien upon real estate and which matured more than four years prior to July 1, 1913, you must under the Acts of the Thirty-third Texas Legislature bring suit within one year after July 1, 1913, to foreclose and collect the same, or extend the same as noted below, or the note will be barred by limitation on July 1, 1914, and rendered uncollectable by law.

If any note secured by any character of lien upon real estate is extended, the former method of extension by endorsement upon the note is now insufficient. The extension must be by written contract, signed and acknowledged as required by law for deeds, and placed of record; or the same will be within four years from maturity barred by limitation.

The above is merely a brief statement of the law which radically affects all lien-holders, who should promptly refer to their lawyers for further information.

Respectfully,

Markets By Telegraph

Cotton.

New York, Aug. 7.—Prospects for an improvement in southwestern weather conditions checked an early advance into today's cotton market and prices eased off with the close steady at a net loss of 6 to 7 points on active positions. Near months were relatively quiet and steady during the entire day, closing 5 points not higher.

There was a renewal of yesterday's buying movement at the opening and prices were 1 to 2 points net higher. Liverpool futures were a shade lower than due if anything but reports of a better spot demand in the English market and a feeling that peace in the Balkans might be a step in the direction of improved continental trade conditions probably helped the local advance. Further private deterioration reports from the southwest and the failure of the early weather map to show any relief from the dry conditions recently complained of were the main bullish features, however, and during the early trading inspired quite an active demand from Wall street and houses with western connections. As prices worked upward, a few stop orders were uncovered and the market at one time showed a net gain of about 6 to 7 points, with the new crop positions selling about 20 points above the level of Monday. Demand became less active at these figures, while considerable realizing developed and the market later eased off on private predictions for lower temperatures and rains in Texas and Oklahoma before the end of the day. The forecast is generally clear weather in these states, but increasing cloudiness in Arkansas was supposed to color the predictions of individual forecasters in both the New York and New Orleans markets, which were less active at these figures, while considerable realizing developed and the market later eased off on private predictions for lower temperatures and rains in Texas and Oklahoma before the end of the day.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Aug. 7.—The cotton market was nervous today, fluctuations carrying prices above and below yesterday's close. It was a weather market and buying was based on the dry weather map and high temperatures, while selling was founded on private reports of moisture in the drought districts of the western belt and private forecasts of more rain to come. Those who were bullish inclined were not disposed to meet much resistance in the afternoon, which fitted in well with bullish sentiment and caused no little selling.

On the opening the tone was steady and prices were unchanged to 2 points up, compared with the close of yesterday. Demand was not high enough, but selling around the opening was prevented by continued drought and high temperatures in Texas and Oklahoma. In the early trading prices were sent 3 to 6 points over yesterday's closing, which was the high level of the day. Around the middle of the morning private reports of rain in the belt began to circulate and the market fell to a level 5 to 7 points under yesterday's close. The denial of complete recovery at noon, but in the afternoon the market weakened again and fell 8 to 11 points under yesterday's last quotations. Close was steady at the lowest of the day.

Grain.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Belief that the breaking of the drought is near led to heavy selling today in corn. Closing prices were nervous at a range 3/4 lower to 1 1/2 up, compared with last night. Wheat finished 1/4 to 3/4 down; oats with a gain of 1/4 to 3/4, and provisions varying from 1/4 decline to an advance of 2 1/2.

Rain scattered over the northern part of the belt, with additional moisture predicted for tonight and tomorrow, incited many speculators to a bearish view of the corn market. Nevertheless, all of the offerings were well absorbed; some of the large bulls became aggressive and added to their holdings. The September option, in which some leader is supposed to have a big line, was especially tight at the wind-up, after a series of rapid changes over a range of 20.

Distressing reports of damage to corn in Kansas and Missouri, accompanied by news of scorching heat and of exhausted moisture. So acute was the situation southwest that St. Louis was said to be buying corn near Chicago to ship to Wichita, Kan., a proceeding seldom, if ever, attempted.

Wheat prices suffered from pressure due to the slowness of export sales and because of the raising of private estimates on yields in the spring crop states. The market rallied a little in the late dealing, some shorts evincing a disposition to even up pending the issue of the government report tomorrow.

Improving shipping demand strengthened oats. The recent break had caused a buying lull, rallied the provision market. Offerings were scarce after prices began to advance.

TERRY, PROPRIETOR OF DIXIE THEATER, FOUND GUILTY OF OPERATING ON SUNDAY.

First Movie Man to Be Fined Since Inauguration of Donation Plan.

Will Terry, proprietor of the Dixie theatre, a motion picture show, was found guilty of keeping his place of amusement open on Sunday and fined $20 by a jury in Justice Harvey M. Richey's court yesterday. Terry took the stand and related the manner in which his show was operated. The conviction is the first in the local courts against motion picture operators since the donation plan has been adopted. A placard which is placed in front of the show on Sunday, and which reads that all who care to enter free may do so and that all who care to donate to help pay running expenses may drop their money into a box, was displayed to the jury.

The jury which convicted Terry was composed of George Kneble, real estate dealer; Nick Alexander, groceryman; Ben Bright, farmer; Ed Elkins, bookkeeper; J. J. Richards, loan and real estate operator, and H. G. Young, salesman.

There are four similar cases pending against other picture show owners. Their cases may be called today.

POST AWARDED $2,172.

Alleged Breach of Promise Suit Against Higgins Ends.

Actual damages in the sum of $2,172 was awarded Sid Post in his suit against J. W. Higgins, by a decision of Judge Tom L. McCulloch in the Nineteenth District court yesterday. The case was submitted to the judge on special issues, fourteen questions being answered by the jurors. Among these questions the jury decided that Post should have been awarded $2,172 or liquidated damages of $5,000.

Suit was brought by Post on alleged breach of contract. The contract specified that on failure of either party to carry out the provisions of the contract, the party so failing should be liable in the sum of $5,000. Judge McCulloch held that the provisions of the contract providing for a penalization were not effective, and found for the plaintiff the amount of actual damages specified by the jury.

The defense excepted to the findings of the court.

LINGENFELTER FINED $200.

Is Convicted by Jury on Charge of Vagrancy.

Wm. Lingenfelter, charged with vagrancy in the county court, was found guilty by a jury yesterday afternoon and his punishment fixed at a fine of $200. The jury was out just eleven minutes. The trial of Lingenfelter possibly created more interest than had been evidenced in any hearing in county court during the present term. The court room has been crowded during the two days the case has been on trial. The state introduced a number of witnesses tending to show that the defendant was, under the law, a vagrant. Lingenfelter is well known here. The jury which convicted the man was composed of C. H. Graves, farmer; B. F. Dancer, E. B. Daniel, R. B. Farish, J. A. Orem and W. H. Wiggins.

The penalty assessed was the highest fixed by law.

Returned to Waco.

Tom Pace, negro, arrested in Dallas and wanted here on a charge of shooting at a negro woman, was returned by Deputy Constable Smith yesterday. Pace is alleged to have shot at a woman and also to have beaten up a negro man. He had been at liberty for nine months. He was arrested by the police of Dallas, who notified the local officers.

Commission May Take Steps Toward Securing Right of Way Across Property.

Complaint has been made by the street department that drainage from Colcord street across the Coates division, between Colcord and Trice avenues, has been seriously interrupted by the filling in of this land by the owner.

The city has obtained across this division to Barron's Branch for near a year, and the filling in of it now seriously hampers the department in setting a drainway for water on the streets. The matter will be considered at the commission's session this morning, and it is possible that condemnation process to secure a continuation of Eighteenth street will be instituted. Through this, it is expected to arrive at some means of getting the drain water to the branch.

It is understood that the Coates division is now being filled in preparatory to opening a restricted addition.

HOLINESS MEETING BEGINS

Kendall Preaches First Sermon Tonight—Here for Ten Days.

To make preparations for the annual holiness camp meeting which begins tonight at Apple camp grounds, three miles from the city on the Cotton belt road, Rev. J. B. Kendall and Rev. Andrew Johnson arrived in the city yesterday.

First sermon will be preached at the grounds tonight by Rev. Mr. Kendall. During the ten days of the meeting there will be three sermons daily. Prof. C. D. Lear will be in charge of the singing.

This is the twenty-second annual meeting of the members of the organization, which is interdenominational in principle. It is reckoned as one of the religious meetings of the state and the effects of it are far reaching.

Interest Prevails In Northern Texas, Declares Mayfield

Seth N. Mayfield, secretary of the Cotton Palace, has returned from a trip to Greenville and other North Texas points, where he went in the interest of the big exposition. Mayfield will visit McKinney and other points next week. He says that the greatest interest prevails in the Cotton Palace and that larger crowds will be in evidence from North Texas than ever before.

Speaking of new features, he said: "We are going to get the very best carnival attractions this year, and will spend a great deal of money on the free act features to entertain the masses that will be here. So great has become the demand for space that several changes are being made in the main building, and a new poultry building will soon be under construction, to be finished before the exposition opens."

The "Made-in-Waco" exhibit, recently shown here, will be displayed in the floral building. It makes me feel good to note the enthusiasm that is being displayed all over Texas over the Cotton Palace. It certainly will be a hummer this year."

Lost Pedal Covers Cost $275 Business, Is the Allegation

The loss of two pairs of sample shoes, one pair valued at $140 and the other at $130, are claimed in a suit filed in the county court yesterday to have cost the plaintiff a loss in business of $275. John Stiborek, a Bohemian salesman, brought suit against the Texas Central railroad Co. for damages in the sum of $275 for the alleged loss of drummers' samples that were contained in a trunk shipped by the plaintiff over the defendant company's lines from Waco to Ross.

Among the goods said to be missing were two pair of sample Bohemian-made shoes. The plaintiff alleges that the loss of the shoes prevented his showing them to prospective customers, which caused a loss of business which he estimates at $275.

The petition claims that the trunk was shipped from Waco June 3 and was not received by plaintiff at Ross until July 3, and that when received many articles which it originally contained were missing.

Officers Round Up Vags and Suspects

The "vag" has fallen upon evil days. With officers of three departments bounding him and laying down the terms of his vagrancy, the vagabond is either "straightening up" and going to work or taking the first convenient blind baggage out of the city. A few, but the number is not large, have preferred the rock pile.

The police blotter shows the arrest and conviction of several dozen vagrants, drunks and suspicious characters. The work is still going forward; every evening officers of the departments go over the city on investigating tours, making arrests, where straight-forward stories are not told. Saturday night the combined forces of the three departments will go over the city.

MRS. MALDWIN DRUMMOND RESISTING INCOME TAX IN ENGLISH COURTS

MRS. MALDWIN DRUMMOND

The question whether money owned by an American is subject to the income tax in England again cropped up when Mrs. Maldwin Drummond, who was the widow of Marshall Field, Jr., in the High Court appealed against an assessment of $50,000 on money she had received from the trustees of the late Marshall Field, Sr., for the suitable maintenance and education of his three grandchildren, Marshall, Henry and Gwendolyn, the children of Marshall Field, Jr., and Mrs. Field, now Mrs. Drummond.

Mrs. Drummond appealed on the ground that the children are receiving no income at all from America and none of them benefits under the will until they are twenty-five years old.

SECURE PERMANENT QUARTERS SHORTLY

Chairman E. R. Smith Makes Report, May Get Charter.

Dallas Adcrafters Talk—Georgia and Hutchinson Speak on Advertising.

In but a short time the Waco Ad Club will be located in permanent quarters of its own. Movement is already afoot to charter the organization.

Chairman E. R. Smith of the permanent home committee, reported last night at the regular meeting that the committee looked at a number of halls and would in a short time have a definite report to submit to the directors. He declared that he had found not only the members enthusiastic over the plan, but many of the business men of Waco.

Upon his request, the committee was granted further time so that the best location might be secured. The committee will probably make a final report at the next meeting. Already, the chairman stated, the amount of $125 has been subscribed.

Each member of the association snapped with enthusiasm and the spirit of get-together.

The educational work featured the evening, while reports of committees shows that they are performing a stable, far-reaching work.

The Adcrafters were fortunate in having as guests of the evening E. G. Hardy, of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company, and Dr. F. A. Wynne, of the Crockett Advertising Agency, members of the Dallas Ad Club.

Dr. Wynne is one of the three Texas members of the national board. Both of the Dallas visitors spoke to the members. Mr. Hardy talked briefly, but to the point. He declared that some four years ago a trip to Waco was the most unpleasant duty that could be thrust upon him. Then, he said, about this time the young men of the city recognized their opportunity, thrust the antiquities back, and came into the limelight in a combined effort to build the city to the point it should attain.

"Well, to show you," he concluded, "I now have a field survey by our company in my pocket. It gives the town a little short of 24,000 inhabitants now. The first survey by the Southwestern here was in 1890, Waco had but about 14,000 population then."

Dr. W. B. Georgia spoke for several minutes, making a number of valuable suggestions that he deemed would assist the club from an advertising standpoint.

The education feature of the club, he declared, contained much good for every member. The discussion that was made about this plan or that that medium resulted in dollars and cents. While one might believe that such and such a medium was valueless, another might present facts, showing that this same medium, in his particular line of business, was a real getter. He advocated an exchange of ideas.

One of the features suggested by Dr. Georgia was a "question box" into which members might drop questions that puzzle them. These would then be discussed at the next regular meeting, and the questioner would get the benefit of the knowledge of perhaps half a dozen competent men.

President W. J. Mitchell gave his approval to the plan, as did the majority of the members. It will probably be introduced within a short time.

Dr. F. A. Wynne of the Crockett Advertising Agency, Dallas, followed. The Dallas man has the distinction of being one of the organizers of the Waco Ad club, and he paid high compliment to the work that the organization has been accomplishing.

He also spoke about the educational feature of the work, pointing home the point that it plays a most important part in the life of the club. He urged that every member who is appointed to contribute to this department should always bring a written copy of his speech. Few men, he declared, were able to speak and think on their feet, and while they might have prepared an extraordinary address, nine cases out of ten they would talk around their subject, hitting it only in high spots, when called to deliver them before the membership.

The national committee, of which he is a member, has prepared advertising

Complaint Against Boyles Withdrawn

A complaint against I. S. Boyles, who is interested in the Downtown Mission, charging disturbing the peace, was filed in the police court Wednesday night. The complaint was made by a local business man.

Boyles was notified by Policeman Nimrod Sheppard to be in attendance at police court Thursday morning to answer to the charge. Before court the merchant making the complaint agreed to withdraw it on request of Boyles, and the statement that the offense would not again be committed.

Boyles was charged with hurling on the street, through a megaphone, a picture show attraction. The show is being given at the Downtown Mission.

Boyles was arrested Tuesday charged with running his automobile without displaying a license number. He pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $5.

KATY HEARING HAS DAY HERE

Mr. Nickels—How were divisions made? Mr. Sperry—Under general order of the Texas railroad commission.

Mr. Nickels—You accepted traffic via Morgan from the Santa Fe on the same basis you did via Waco from the M. & T. divisions and all?

Mr. Sperry—I will answer your questions as you ask them.

Out After Business.

One of the very illuminating letters received by Mr. Nickels was dated June 10, 1912 from Mr. Sperry to the agent at Walnut Springs, which reads:

"Please make a thorough canvass of the town and see if you cannot influence the routing of business via System line."

He same letter was written to the agent at Albany.

The result of the entire day of hearing in the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Central suit, brought by the state, was the certification and incorporation in the record of several hundred letters, which have been taken from the files of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad and the Texas Central, with reference to the routing of freight traffic.

Summed up, the story of the day is this: The state claims by letters and these letters are admitted by the defendant corporations, that the efforts of the freight traffic department of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad and the Texas Central railway was to route all business over these two lines where it was possible and that there was an agreement by the Texas & Pacific that its freight agents at Dallas and Fort Worth were to refer all who were shipping to points on the Texas Central to the Missouri, Kansas & Texas; it was further shown that the number of shipments out of Dallas and Fort Worth moved over the Texas & Pacific via Cisco to Texas Central points, and when the Katy made a protest against the violation of the Texas & Pacific orders to their local agents at Fort Worth moved over the Katy to the Texas & Pacific.

Were Treated as One Line. On the same date, the defendant companies brought out the fact that in March, 1911, the Texas Central and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas were under one management and were treated as one line; that as soon as this order was issued by the commission that the Missouri, Kansas & Texas and the Texas Central took advantage of it and sought routing orders for points on the Texas Central as a one-line proposition. They also brought out the point that as one line the shipper would get the benefit of the one line rate. Another point testified to on questioning by the attorneys for the defendant was that it is customary for a railroad to not solicit freight for a local point on another road, and that the agreement of the Texas & Pacific not to accept freight for local points on the Texas Central, was because the Texas Central was considered a part of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and as the Missouri, Kansas & Texas had a line into Dallas and Fort Worth, the Texas & Pacific was merely refraining from soliciting for business to a local point on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

Sperry on the Stand. H. B. Sperry, general freight agent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and formerly general freight agent of the Texas Central, was on the stand most of the day. Elbert Blair, general freight and passenger agent of the Texas Central at the present time, was a witness for a few moments and K. Bowler, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Central, brought into court the stock books and minute books of that road. They were identified and the assistant attorney general arranged to examine them at his leisure.

The hearing is being conducted by Truman Barrett of Dallas as special commissioner. Luther Nickels, as assistant attorney general, is representing the state, and Alex Coke, general attorney for the Katy, and Victor L. Brooks of Austin, are representing the defendant companies. C. I. Evans Jr. is taking the testimony for the record.

There was nothing to enliven the proceedings except a short colloquy
